Ich arbeite mit Malerei als einem Medium, das Wahrnehmung nicht bestätigt, sondern infrage stellt.

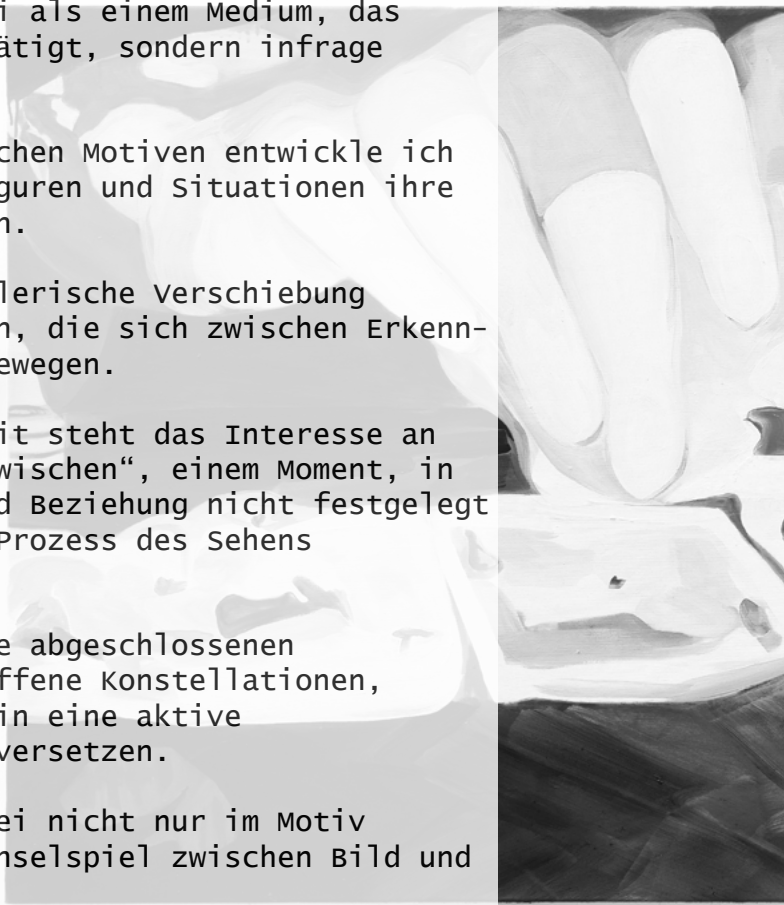

Ausgehend von alltäglichen Motiven entwickle ich Bildräume, in denen Figuren und Situationen ihre Eindeutigkeit verlieren.

Durch Unschärfe und malerische Verschiebung entstehen Darstellungen, die sich zwischen Erkennbarkeit und Auflösung bewegen.

Im Zentrum meiner Arbeit steht das Interesse an einem Zustand des „Dazwischen“, einem Moment, in dem Identität, Raum und Beziehung nicht festgelegt sind, sondern sich im Prozess des Sehens verändern.

Meine Bilder sind keine abgeschlossenen Erzählungen, sondern offene Konstellationen, die den Betrachtenden in eine aktive Wahrnehmungssituation versetzen.

Bedeutung entsteht dabei nicht nur im Motiv selbst, sondern im Wechselspiel zwischen Bild und Blick.

I work with painting as a medium that does not confirm perception but questions it.

Starting from everyday motifs, I develop pictorial spaces in which figures and situations lose their clarity.

Through blurring and painterly shifts, images emerge that oscillate between recognition and dissolution.

At the core of my work lies an interest in a state of “in-between” a moment in which identity, space, and relationships are not fixed, but change through the act of seeing.

My paintings are not closed narratives, but open constellations that place the viewer in an active perceptual situation.

Meaning does not reside in the image itself, but arises in the interplay between image and gaze.
